To reduce the issues, the above amendments limit the claimed subject matter to compounds wherein  $R^1$  is alkoxyalkyl, the compounds of Group III of the "Examiner Interview Summary Record" of the interview conducted on May 13, 1980. Additionally, the claimed compounds are further limited to those of Group III wherein  $-R^1CH_2O-$  is in the p-position. The cancellation is made without prejudice to claiming the cancelled subject matter in one or more separate applications. New Claims 11 and 12 are directed to the preferred sub-classes of compounds of Claim 1. See page 4, line 29 and page 5, line 28.

The undersigned wishes to express his appreciation for the very helpful interview kindly accorded him on May 13, 1980. At that interview, the examiner informed the undersigned that in his opinion, different showings of unobvious differences in properties would be required for the compounds of Groups I-V set forth in the Interview Summary Record. As set forth therein, it was the examiner's opinion that a showing involving Compound 8 of Reference H (3,674,840) and applicants' Compound 4 (46) was required. The indicated showing involving applicants'
